AxMod's love affair with electronic music began in his teens, inspired by Daft Punk and other French Touch icons Cassius, Breakbot, Alan Braxe and Modjo.

With classical piano training from a young age, he quickly managed to refine his production techniques and signed his first tracks with Universal Music. Throughout France, he mixes alongside Thomas Jack, FKJ or Louisahhh, feeding the desire to develop a musical universe of his own.

In 2017, after a two-year road-trip across the American continent, his first EP "Brooke" was born, a critically acclaimed project with the track "Intro 808" exceeding 2 million streams. The same year, he took over rooftops in Paris throughout the summer with his project "La Jungle", weekly parties where he invited labels and Parisian collectives to join him, and rocked nearly 2000 people with his House and Deep House styles.

After the release of several singles between 2017 and 2021, he decided once again to draw inspiration from a long journey, in Brazil this time, at the end of which takes shape his second EP "Hidden Figures", 4 tracks alternating between Deep House and Melodic Techno.

In 2022, he co-founded with his friend Winson the collective "Tree of Ténéré" with the objective of gathering Parisians around house music with exotic, organic and warm textures. After having entertained the Parisian scene at the Flow (Quai des Invalides), AxMod went back to the studio to produce a new EP, this time with more incisive sounds, going to Afro and Tribal House, reminding us of the iconic Black Coffee. A definite dance track to start 2023, which promises to be rich for this music lover! Be ready to discover the first track, "Allahina", available on February 10th.
